Skip Atwater and 40 Years of Remote Viewing

Next month, the International Remote Viewing Association Conference held in Las Vegas, Nevada, salutes 40 Years of Remote Viewing -- "This year we will be celebrating the 40th anniversary of remote viewing, commemorating the day in June 1972 when Hal Puthoff and Ingo Swann executed their remote viewing magnetometer experiment at the Stanford Research Institute."

TMI's director of technology and former president F. Holmes "Skip" Atwater will address the conference on the topic, "Quantum Mind Remote Viewing with Spatial Angle Modulation™"

Prior to the conference, Skip will co-present a workshop led by Marty Rosenblatt on Group 1ARV Protocol. "... the latest advance in applying Remote Viewing skills to predict Future Outcomes." According to Marty and Skip, "Spirit and consciousness are at the core of remote viewing, precognition and all other psi-related phenomena. This workshop offers the opportunity to explore personal spirit/consciousness in a team environment while doing applications."

Gems from TMI's Archives

TMI's archives are full of treasures, some tucked away and invisible to the casual eye -- hours of priceless video featuring Bob addressing program groups, special meditation exercises, program participants sharing their experiences, guest speakers; photos, audio, and documents from days of yore. This issue's gem, it turns out, is quite recent:

Near Death Experience of a Neurosurgeon:
A must watch!

TMI's research director, neuroscientist Eben Alexander, III, M.D., F.A.C.S., describes the near death experience that transformed his life. While bacterial meningitis completely overwhelmed his brain leading to coma, Dr Alexander encountered an earth worm eye view of the world, then the warm loving light...
